Sanjna Srikanth is a young artist who is blessed with the rare talent of expressing herself through several forms of art. Born in Boston, USA, her parents noticed her penchant to experiment with colours at a very tender age of 3. When they moved to California, Sanjna was enrolled in drawing and ceramic classes, but, only after the family shifted to Bangalore, her formal training in Art started with the BIS (Bangalore International School). Currently, she is under the tutelage of art teachers Mr. Doddamani, Ms. Malamma Patil and Mr. Vinod Shahpure.

Sanjna is known for her spontaneous art expressions of pure, brilliant colours and simple, abstract forms. Sanjna is extremely creative and uses mediums such as pencil, charcoal, dry pastel, oil pastel, pen, ink and acrylic paints with equal elan. Over the years, her work has evolved in terms of boldness of the lines she uses, compositions and force of dynamism in her artistic manifestations.

In the year 2012, when Sanjna was 16 years old, she held her first Solo Arts Exhibition with a collection of over 40 paintings and drawings, and the proceeds went to a charitable cause. Several prominent international artists attended the exhibition and gave testimonials of her work. In Feb. 2013, one of Sanjna's works of art was profiled at the World Economic Forum, held at Davos. And, in Nov 2013, her paintings were displayed in the India Inclusion Summit, and one of them was sold in a notable auction along with India's prominent artists.

In June 2014, Sanjna was also awarded the prestigious International Diana Award for being an inspiring teen role model to her peers. This award was selected by a distinguished panel, and signed by Mr. David Cameron, British PM.
